

Nancy Hawa

OBJECTIVE

To obtain a junior developer position that will allow me to use and develop skills across the full stack

EDUCATION

The Flatiron School, New York, NY

Web Development Immersive

Skills: Ruby on Rails, HTML5, CSS, JavaScript, Git, SQL, Test Driven Development

Amherst College, Amherst, MA

B.A. in Psychology

Activities: Parliamentary Debate Society, Vice-President, Tournament Director

Amherst College Democrats, Vice-President

Books for Boys Fundraising Committee, Chair

EXPERIENCE

Kingsborough Early College Secondary School, Brooklyn, NY (September 2009-Present)

Special Education Teacher: 6th-12th Grade, Data Specialist, Field Trip Coordinator, Model Congress Coach

- Taught special education to all grades (6-12) in all content areas (English, History, Math, and Science) over the course of five years.
- Created original common-core aligned curricula that allowed multiple points of entry and resulted in improved reading levels and test scores
- Created professional development programs to help teachers read, interpret, and use data to improve instruction.
- Managed school-wide initiative to develop and implement a new discipline policy, communicating and negotiating between administration and staff to develop solutions that addressed the concerns of all parties while remaining cost effective.

Middle School of Marketing and Legal Studies, Brooklyn, NY (September 2008-June 2009)

Legal Studies and Social Studies Teacher

- Created new curriculum for 6th Grade Legal Studies program, covering American government, torts, contracts, property, and constitutional law.
- Taught four 6th Grade Legal Studies Classes and one 7th grade Social Studies classes.

AWARDS: Amherst College Award for Commitment to Teaching, 2010

Kingsborough Early College Secondary School Teacher of the Year, 2012